

Dueltek Joins CEDIA

Dueltek are pleased to announce its new membership with CEDIA.

CEDIA (Custom Electronic Design & Installation Association) is an international trade association of companies that specialise in designing and installing electronic systems for residential environments. CEDIA certified professionals are proven experts who are committed to a higher standard of education.

Custom design and installation is the process by which your home electronics are integrated into one coherent system. This is the cutting edge of a rapidly growing field and is only recently becoming more widely known outside the consumer-electronics industry.

Amongst consumers there is a growing awareness of CEDIA, a NFP (not-for-profit) trade association, which was founded in the USA in 1989 now has administration offices in the UK & Australia.

CEDIA allows you to obtain referrals to find qualified, reputable and insured design and installation contractors to help you with your project. Hiring a CEDIA Certified professional gives you peace of mind and the finest in custom electronic design and installation.

“Dueltek’s range of Audio Visual products have been designed specifically for installation technicians, so joining CEDIA was a natural move for us!” Says Gary Herzig - Managing Director.

“After countless meetings with design architects, installers and manufactures we believe that our range of cables, adapters and wall plates are some of the best in Australia. Over 2 years of research and development has gone into this new range of AV products and we are still working with clients on new projects everyday.”
